

Mayline Receives Greenguard Certification!

Are you continually getting asked about Greenguard certified products? Look no further -- we've recently been successful in having nearly everything we manufacture Greenguard Certified! Greenguard is a third-party certification for products that are designed and produced with materials and processes that safeguard indoor air quality.

Many of Mayline's most popular lines have received certification, including, but not limited to, the following:

Talon Training Tables

- CSII modular workstations
- Talon training tables
- VariTask height adjustable workstations
- Mobile Aisle & ARC Rotary high density filing systems
- Mailflow Systems mailroom furniture
- TechWorks computer workstations
- Entire offering of steel plan files

All of these products have met or exceeded the Greenguard Environmental Institute's demanding standards for reducing harmful indoor air emissions. By achieving this certification, the products can also be utilized for earning points in the LEED Green Building

Rating System.
